DOHA: Ooredoo announced yesterday that it will broadcast two new radio channels via its Ooredoo tv service, the Ooredoo tv app, from April.

The new channels have been added as part of Ooredoo's ongoing investment in ensuring the best entertainment is available for all its customers. Radio Olive (106.3 FM) is the first Hindi FM channel to be aired from the State of Qatar and will provide the best of entertainment and music to expats from the Indian subcontinent. Radio Suno (91.7 FM) is the a Malayalam FM channel and will provide a broad range of programming for South-Indian expats.
